Community service nominations sought for annual BADC award

As it does each year, the Barrington Area Development Council has begun searching the ranks of community volunteers in the area to find an outstanding, but little recognized, individual or organization.

BADC is looking for a worthy recipient for its annual community service award, which is given to an unsung community leader who consistently has been involved in volunteer work and has quietly sought to meet the needs of the Barrington-area communities.

A BADC committee will select the winner from nominees representing - but not limited to - such diverse fields as health care, conservation, preservation, education, youth work, public service business and transportation.

The award will be presented at the Barrington Area Development Council's annual meeting on May 11, 2011 at the Wamberg residence in Barrington Hills, Illinois.

All nominations must be received by April 22, 2011.
